Location and Aims.

LOMBARD UNIVERSITY is pleasantly situated in Galesburg, Knox County, Illinois—one of the most healthy cities in the State. The inhabitants of the place are distinguished for intelligence, enterprise and moral worth.

It is accessible by railroad from all parts of the West, it being the terminus of roads leading to Chicago, Burlington, Quincy, and Peoria.

The University Building has spacious rooms for Libraries, Apparatus, Music, Lectures, and Recitations. Boarding Houses are located in the immediate vicinity, where students can obtain good accommodations and board at reasonable prices.

It is the purpose of Lombard University to afford to students of either sex, equal opportunities for thorough courses of instruction; and the studies pursued have been arranged:

First, To provide a full Collegiate Course of four years, such as is usually pursued in the best Colleges and Universities in this country.

Second, To accommodate those, to whose circumstances it may be specially adapted, with a Scientific Course, of the same length and so arranged as to combine with practical knowledge, intellectual culture and discipline.

Third, To provide a Literary Course for those who do not desire to pursue the regular Classical or the Scientific Course of the Institution. It also occupies a period of four years.

Fourth, To afford a thorough preparation for each of the Collegiate courses.

Fifth, To meet the wants of those who are unable to pursue either of the regular courses of the Institution.

Instruction.

The University embraces at this time two departments of instruction—the Collegiate and Preparatory. The Collegiate includes three different courses of study,—the Classical, the Scientific, and the Literary Course. The Preparatory includes the studies required to enter the different courses of the collegiate Department, and various other branches usually taught in Academies and High Schools.

DEGREES.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred upon those who complete the studies of the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Laureate of Arts is conferred upon those who complete the Literary Course.

Those completing the Classical Course receive the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The Degree of Master of Arts is conferred, in course, upon every Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who may have sustained in the meantime, a good moral character. Application for this Degree should be made to the President or Treasurer, at least two weeks before Commencement.

The fee for each degree is five dollars, payable in advance.

MUSIC, PAINTING, AND DRAWING.

These Departments are open to all students, prepared to enter them profitably, to whom superior facilities are offered. Painting and Drawing, and other Ornamental Branches receive special attention.

LIBRARY.

The Library is open, under proper regulations, to all students. It is constantly receiving valuable additions.

APPARATUS AND CABINET.

The Institution is furnished with an apparatus sufficiently extensive for class illustration. The Cabinet is large and valuable.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Connected with the University are three Societies: The Philomathian, to which gentlemen in the Preparatory Department are admitted; the Erosophian, composed of gentlemen in the Collegiate Department; and the Zetecalian, the members of which are ladies.

ADMISSION.

Students of either sex, of approved character and qualifications, may be admitted to any Department of Instruction, or to any class connected with Lombard University.

Under-graduates, coming from other Colleges of learning, are required to bring letters of honorable dismission.

The requisitions for admission to the Preparatory Department are an ability to read correctly and fluently, a knowledge of the elements of Geography, and of the four fundamental rules of Arithmetic.

SCHOOL DUTIES.

The hours for school exercises shall be, throughout the Academic year, as follows :

8½ o'clock A. M., religious exercises in the Chapel ; from 9 A. M. to 12 M., study or recitation ; from 1 o'clock P. M. to 4 P. M., study or recitation ; from 7 P. M. until 9 P. M., or until the hour of retiring, study.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCES.

The duties of each school day will commence with religious services in the Chapel, which all students, unless excused for sufficient reasons, are required to attend.

All students are required to attend regularly, on the Sabbath, at such place of religious worship as each may select, or as the parents or guardian of each may desire, and to abstain from all occupation inconsistent with the religious observance of the day.

GENERAL CONDUCT.

Students are required to be orderly in their general conduct, and respectful in their intercourse with the officers and with each other.

They are required to refrain from the use of all intoxicating liquors, and from visiting all places where such liquors are sold as a beverage.

Students are not allowed to attend any dancing, or other party of pleasure, during term time, without permission from the President.

They will not be permitted to play at games leading to habits of idleness or dissipation, or to use any profane or unbecoming language.

Students are not allowed to visit each other in study hours, nor those of different sexes to visit each other at their rooms, at any time.

They are not allowed to attend the meetings of a Society of students of the opposite sex.

Young gentlemen and ladies are not allowed to take walks or rides together without permission.

Any student guilty of damaging or defacing the buildings or other property of the University, shall be held responsible therefor.

In case of any disorderly action, or injurious or immoral practice detrimental to the students, or to the institution, the offender shall be dealt with at the discretion of the Faculty.

No student shall attend upon the instruction of any one not connected with the University, except by permission of the President.

Students will board only in such families as are willing to exert a parental influence over them and report to the President all improprieties of conduct.

Literary Societies.

THE EROSOPHIAN.

The Erosophian Society was organized Jan. 28, 1860. It was formed by a union of the Athenian and Autokeluethii Societies of Lombard University, and is in good working condition. Any gentleman connected with the Collegiate or Classical Department is eligible to membership and entitled to all the benefits of the Society. Its regular meetings are held on Friday evening of each week. The literary exercises consist of debates and essays, which are made public once every month. The Society Hall is pleasantly and conveniently furnished, and the reading desks are constantly supplied with interesting periodicals and many valuable newspapers, both religious and political, which adds much interest to the Society. The Library is valuable and increasing.

THE PHILOMATHIAN.

This Society was organized in the Fall of 1860. Any male student in the Preparatory Department of Lombard University is eligible to membership and all the privileges of the Society.

It holds its regular meetings on Friday evening of each week. The literary exercises consist of discussions, essays, and orations.

The Society occupies a neatly furnished room in the University building. The Library contains about 500 volumes of choice works, which are free to all members of the Society.

THE ZETECALIAN.

This Society was organized in 1863 by the ladies of the Institution. Its exercises consist of debates, essays, historical narrations, and general discussions.

Regular meetings are held on Friday afternoon of each week. The Library has received valuable additions during the past year. The officers of the Society are elected quarterly.
